42 to 48 Inches Het Hypomelanistic Iguana (ID#4): (2014)

get a jump on your breeding project for these amazing iguanas, they look like Albinos but without Red Eyes You can be breeding Hypos next year.

This animal is a 100% Het (heterozygous)

They carry one gene of the two genes necessary to produce visual animals.

If you breed two of them together you will get some visual Hypomelanistic.

There is also a chance they carry the Albino gene.

The parents are Bright Yellow and changing to bright orange through the seasons. The father is a 100% Hypo Green Iguana. The mother is 66% Het for Albino Green Iguana.

The first pic is the animal I am selling The following pics are of the father and one of his brothers.

They require the same care and feeding as any Green Iguana they can grow to 6 feet. Guaranteed Live arrival.

$3,000 each

#10224 - Hypomelanistic / Red Cross Iguana First Ever 2016 Hatchlings (23 available )

This is a cross between a Visual Hypomelanistic Male and a Super Red Female. The father is a 100% Hypo Green Iguana. The mother is a Super Red Iguana.

This is a visual Red/Green Cross animal.

Some great genetics for starting your own breeding project.

This is the first time a Hypo has been crossed with a Super Red. Not sure how many I will sell, but the price will probably go up.
